MESSAGE

Greetings!

The youth is an important segment of any society and have a very important role in its development. They are not only main pillars of the Nation but in them we find reflection of the future and hope for tomorrow.

India at present has total population of about 1.4 billion out of which youth constitute 65% percent, who are confronting many challenges on the ground. The challenges may be in terms poverty, un-employment, drug menace, conflict and corruption at almost every level. The need of the hour is to address to these issues along with other vital matters.

In order to create conducive atmosphere, it is imperative that there must be quality education and research to identify the current burning issues followed by pro-active legislature, swift judicial system and quick response from the executive to address to the genuine issues of the Society and Nation.

The legal education, in my opinion plays a very important role and I am glad to put it on record that K. R. Mangalam University is playing its role towards the Nation building by imparting quality education and engaging the students in research, innovations and community extension activities as a part of their curriculum. Legal education at K.R. Manglalm University, through School of Legal Studies is imparted from both academic and practical perspective. It is strongly believed that law is meant not only for social control but also for social and economic up-liftment of the people especially down-trodden and weaker sections of the Society.

It is rightly said that there is a void between 'Law in books' and 'Law-in-action' but SOLS at K. R. Mangalam University is conscious of the fact that law is not only a weapon for 'Social Control' but also an effective instrument for 'Social Change.' Implementation of the Rule of Law coupled with good governance is the main task of the SOLS.

It is the time, that our youth have to wake-up and address to vital current issues of the Nation. The future development in our country requires Scientists/Scholars/Students to develop ideas on the basis research inputs and innovations on the various contemporary issues, for better understanding of social issues advocating for implementation of existing provisions of law and also reform reform in the legal system if required so.

It's the time that our youth march ahead and take their responsibility on their shoulders for the betterment of the country. Through the Atal Bihari Vajpaye National Youth Parliament- 2023, I extend whole-hearted support towards youth of our nation to come forward and debate upon topics such as Uniform Civil Code, New Education Policy, Freedom of Speech and Expression with respect to Sedition laws and Sino- Indian relationship with respect to Tibet and spread awareness among the masses.

My best wishes to all the participants and the organising team.
